PER CURIAM:

Kaiser Cornelius Jones appeals his conviction, pursuant to a conditional guilty plea, for possession of a firearm by a felon, in violation of 18 U.S.C.A. § 922(g)(1) (West Supp. 1999). Jones reserved in his plea agreement the right to appeal the district court's denial of his motion to suppress. Finding no error, we affirm. We agree with the district court's conclusion that the police officers who seized a firearm from Jones's person following a stop and frisk and protective search possessed "specific and articulable facts prompting a reasonable suspicion that the defendant Jones engaged in criminal activity and was armed and dangerous." Therefore, there was no constitutional violation. See United States v. King, 119 F.3d 290 (4th Cir. 1997). We dispense with oral argument because the facts and legal contentions of the parties are adequately presented in the materials before the court and argument would not aid the decisional process.
