PER CURIAM:

David W. Noble, Jr. appeals the district court's order entering summary judgment in his civil action against his employer, the United States Postal Service, for breach of the employer's collective bargaining agreement with the union, and against his union, for breach of its duty of fair representation of employees. We have reviewed the record and the district court's opinion and find no reversible error. Accordingly, we affirm on the reasoning of the district court. Noble v. United States Postal Service, Nos. CA-95-2616-K; CA-96-2398-K (D. Md. July 14, 1997). Further, we deny Noble's motions to supplement the record on appeal. We dispense with oral argument because the facts and legal contentions are adequately presented in the materials before the court and argument would not aid the decisional process.
